

CHAPTER 7 — WORKBOOK ANSWER KEY

EXERCISE 7-1: Days vs. Working Days

- 1) Days: Tuesday, June 1

In the definition of days, Saturdays, Sundays, and national or commonwealth-declared holidays are counted unless the final day of a period falls on one of them. In this example, you begin counting days on May 12. The 20th day would fall on May 31, which is Memorial Day, a national and commonwealth-recognized holiday. This day must be omitted from the count because a holiday cannot count as the last day in the calculation of days. The deadline for the local agency SEO to review the planning module in this example would therefore be Tuesday, June 1.

- 2) Working Days: Wednesday, June 2

In the definition of working days, Saturdays, Sundays, and national or commonwealth-recognized holidays are not counted. In this example, you begin counting working days on May 19. The 10th day (not counting Saturdays, Sundays, or national and commonwealth-recognized holidays) would fall on June 2. DEP must complete its review by Wednesday, June 2.
